- you use a loop to calculate how many years it will take to get a specified amount of money in the account, based on a starting amount and a fixed interest rate.(in winform)